

THE DAILY NEWS.

LARGEST CIRCULATION.—THE DAILY NEWS BEING THE NEWSPAPER OFFICIALLY RECOGNIZED AS HAVING THE LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY OF CHARLESTON, PUBLISHED THE LIST OF LETTERS REMAINING IN THE POSTOFFICE AT THE END OF EACH WEEK, ACCORDING TO THE PROVISIONS OF THE NEW POSTOFFICE LAW.

LOCAL MATTERS.

AUCTION SALES THIS DAY.
JEFFORDS & CO. will sell at 9 o'clock, in front of their stores, Vendue Range, sides, shodders, &c.
MILLIGAN & SON will sell at 10 o'clock, before their store, Vendue Range, furniture, mattresses, &c.
J. A. ENSLOW & CO. will sell at 10 o'clock, before their store, East Bay, hams, molasses, &c.
LAUREY & ALEXANDER will sell at 10 o'clock, in their store, East Bay, hams, shoulders, &c.
T. M. CATER will sell at three o'clock, past 9 o'clock, on Brown's wharf, butter, bacon, &c.
MILES DRAKE will sell at 10 o'clock, in his store, corner of King and Liberty streets, dry goods, clothing, &c.
JOHN G. MILNOR & CO. will sell, at 10 o'clock, at their auction sale, a large stock of reasonable dry goods.

THE DAILY NEWS PRICE CURRENT AND COMMERCIAL CIRCULAR will be ready for delivery at nine o'clock to-morrow morning. Business houses wishing to subscribe for a specified number of copies containing their cards, should leave their orders at our counting room to-day.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION.—We are requested to direct attention to the call for a Republican Convention, to be held at the Military Hall, on the first proximo.

HEAVY FREIGHTS.—The Champion brought to this port a larger freight list than has been known for years. The goods are not only for local merchants, but for all points from Florida to Tennessee.

THE CHARLESTON.—The report published yesterday that the steamship Charleston had put into Hampton Roads with her buckets disabled is supposed to be incorrect. It is thought that some other steamship has been taken for her by mistake.

TWO VALUED CITIZENS GONE.—Mr. H. H. Williams and Mr. E. W. Pettit, both old citizens and business men, died yesterday. Mr. Williams was for years identified with the hat business, and Mr. Pettit was equally as well known in the insurance office.

REDUCTION OF RATES.—Messrs. Mordocai & Co., agents of the Baltimore and Charleston Railroad and Steamship Line, announce in the Baltimore papers a reduction of rates of through freight to interior and other points in North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida.

ASSAULT.—One Sanders, a colored hand on the sloop Julia, lying at Bennett's mill wharf, was struck on the head yesterday morning with a handspike by a white man named Charley. Charley could not be identified, and Sanders was taken to the hospital, where it was found that his injuries were not serious.

SAVANNAH REPUBLICAN FOR SALE.—This old and well-established journal is advertised to be sold, by the administrator of the late proprietor, John E. Hayes, on the first Tuesday in October, proximo. The property is valuable, and will no doubt bring a handsome price if the notice of the sale can be properly disseminated in so short a period.

THE SUPREME COURT OF THE CARPET-BAG STATE. Government convened in Columbia on Tuesday, in special session, Justices Willard and Hoge being present. No business was transacted except the appointment of Mr. A. M. Booser, of Lexington, a son of Lieutenant Governor Booser, as Clerk of the Court. The session, it is announced, will be devoted exclusively to cases of a pressing character.

THE CIRCUS TO-NIGHT.—The mammoth pavilion on the Citadel Green will be opened to-night to the public. A rich fund of amusement will be furnished. The clowns are the funniest fellows in the country. The barbed-ribbon riding cannot be surpassed, and the circus is replete with attractions. The cars from both routes will be in waiting near the Green, and for the accommodation of visitors.

DRAMATIC READING.—Dr. J. R. E. Couturier will give to-night a dramatic reading at the Hiernian Hall. He will be assisted in the entertainment by a lady, and the selections read will be interspersed with gems of vocal melody. Dr. Couturier has met with much success in Georgia, and the Charleston public should not forget that here he is native and to the manor born. The programme appears in another column.

THE ALARM BELLS.—When the Fire Department was reorganized a change was made in the alarms, and only the way was struck. While none can object to districting the fire companies, few can see the necessity for changing the former system of alarms. The present plan is not sufficient to awake the firemen, and they, as a body, appear to desire to have the old ten-minute alarm restored. This alarm could be altered with the number of the ward, and both ends effected at the same time.

THE SCHOOL SHIP.—The necessity of having a school ship for the maritime instruction of such of our youth as desire to pursue a nautical career is pressing and urgent; but the want of means, that great drawback to Southern development, has prevented the procuring of a suitable craft. In their earnest efforts to supply this need, the Rev. W. Yates, Captain C. C. Neil, and others of our citizens, applied to Admiral Shubrick, Chief of the Lighthouse Board, for the use of one of the light vessels not in use; but we regret that this application has failed of success, Captain Neil having received a letter from Admiral Shubrick which states that the department have no power to act in this matter.

REPUBLICAN MEETING ON THE BATTERY.—John N. Langston, a colored lawyer, hailing from Ohio, reached the city yesterday in the course of a tour through the South, and delivered himself of a speech last night. The faithful were notified of his arrival, and it was announced that he would speak at White Point Garden. This drew a large crowd of negroes to that spot, including a number of colored women. On the stage we noticed, besides the speaker, Bowen, Pillsbury, DeLargo, Burdett, Boudolph, and other lesser and blacker legislative lights. Langston occupied the attention of his audience for some time, decanting on the power of the Radical party, landing its progress and principles, and denouncing the Democrats. He said this was not a white man's government, but every position was open to the American, of whatever class or color. Langston mentioned that he was a Virginia slave; if so, he has certainly made good use of his advantages, as his delivery and grammar were able unexceptionable. The crowd, though somewhat noisy in their demonstrations, behaved well on the whole, and after the speech dispersed quietly.

Dr. W. H. Morrow.—The Dr. Morrow whose death from an alteration in North Carolina was announced in yesterday's News, figured around Charleston during the earlier years of the war. His first appearance was at the iron battery, when Fort Sumter was taken by the Confederate forces. He was then a surgeon under the State Government. Later in the war he became a Confederate surgeon, and was placed in charge of a hospital. His record was not particularly brilliant, and he was only known from having been to the Crimea. After his apostasy, he was generally neglected by his old army friends.

FIRE.—A fire occurred about two o'clock yesterday morning, in Line-street, near Rutledge. It was first discovered in a one-story wooden building, formerly a grocery store, belonging to a Mr. Fink, but latterly used as a school-room by the Young Men's Christian Association. A building in the rear of the school-house, owned by Mrs. Euman, and occupied by Mrs. McLemore, was also burnt. In consequence of the severity of the fire the flames were unable to check the flames before the houses mentioned above were consumed. As far as could be ascertained, there was no insurance on either the buildings or the contents, and the loss will be total.

CITY RECORDER.—It is reported that Major D. T. Corbin is a candidate for this office, which has been so long and worthily filled by Judge Pringle. The duties of the office are not supposed to be arduous, and doubtless Major Corbin thinks that they will fill usefully and profitably the chinks of time unoccupied by his manifold labors as United States District Attorney, Circuit Judge, Codifier of the Laws and State Senator. Major Corbin's industry and patriotism are extraordinary, and it is a consolation to read the following figures, which show that he can retire before he is entirely exhausted in the service of his country: United States District Attorney, $6000; Circuit Judge $5000; Codifier of the Laws, $10,000; State Senator, per diem, mileage, and perquisites of influential member, $10,000; City Recorder, $2500. Total annual income, $33,500.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.—September 23.—Charleston Hotel.—W. P. Long, city; Benjamin Falkes, Boston; J. H. Risley, city; N. M. Norflee, Richmond, Va.; S. G. Garner, Richmond District; O. A. Caldwell, Ga.; Chas. H. Campbell, New York; J. C. Bonware, Fairfield; John M. Martin, wife and son, Florida.

Pavilion Hotel.—John A. Sutton, G. L. J. Lampkin, M. L. Hyle, Athens, Ga.; Dr. J. B. E. Couturier, Augusta; J. C. Backingham, Barnwell; Joseph P. Youngblood, Simon Brown, C. E. Lartigue, J. C. Browne, Blackville; T. Connor, J. J. Rader, Newberry; W. A. Eustice, Webster, N. C.; W. H. Roane, Franklin, N. C.; Dr. S. M. Dinkins, Sumter; M. C. Hall, Northeastern Railroad; H. Schilling, George's Station; J. W. Ainsley, Orangeburg.

A WHOPPER.—The following amusing fabrication appears in a Washington telegram to the New York Times:

A dispatch has been received from a reliable source by the secretary of the Union Congressional Committee announcing the arrival in South Carolina of several thousand stands of arms, assigned to "prominent Southern gentlemen" in Charleston and elsewhere. They consist of repeating rifles and other arms used by cavalry and infantry during the war. The discovery has occasioned great excitement in Charleston, and fears are entertained that they will be used in armed political organizations. Many of the white citizens of Charleston, when the recent bogus conspiracy by the colored men to control the city was alleged to have been discovered, announced their intention of arming themselves for defence against the anticipated attacks. These arms, it is supposed, have been procured for that purpose.

It would seem from the above that our old war-time friend, "The Reliable Gentleman," is not dead yet.

THE SHOOTING YESTERDAY.—The maroon and shooting festival, at the Schutzenfest, drew a large throng yesterday, and the cars and omnibuses did a brisk business in conveying the marooners to and from the chosen spot. The day was beautifully clear and bright, with a gentle breeze, and the attendance of the Schutzenfestgesellschaft, or German Shooting Club, quite large. To give zest to the shooting, Mr. Henry These, the keeper of the grounds, had prepared three prizes for the best shots. The sharp crack of the rifle was heard incessantly throughout the morning, and the shooting stand was the centre of attraction. The rifles used were generally those belonging to the members; but a Switzer rifle, won by Mr. Torck at the New York Schutzenfest, and a fine weapon made by Hapoldt, were the favorites. The targets three in number, were of iron, and twenty-eight inches in diameter. They were placed at a distance of two hundred feet from the stand. The members of the Club shot either from a rest or from the shoulder, but for some reason, the shooting did not average as well as at the May Festival. At three o'clock the shooting was declared closed, and the bugle having sounded the rally, the crowd repaired to the hall, where the prizes were delivered by Captain Melchers, who addressed the successful candidates in German. Mr. H. Benson received the first prize—half dozen silver spoons; Mr. F. Kressel, Jr., was awarded the second prize—a pair of gold sleeve buttons; but Mr. John Garves, who was declared the best shot (over the left), carried off the prize of the day—a large crying doll. The announcement of the prizes was made in a humorous vein, and was greeted with frequent applause.

During the afternoon the band discoursed the airs most pleasing to the disciples of Terpsichore, and the large hall was given up to the votaries of the dance, who kept the gayeties up until the close of the entertainment. Dinner had been furnished under a grove for those who desired something more substantial than music, and the inevitable lager flowed in a continuous stream. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasures of the day. Everything was conducted with the good order and decorum for which our German fellow-citizens are so justly distinguished. The Shooting Club now numbers some two hundred and thirty members, and is in a prosperous condition.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN DEBAUTORT DISTRICT. At a meeting of the citizens of Prince William's Parish, at Whippy Swamp Cross Roads, on the 19th instant, Dr. J. W. Wyman was called to the chair, and E. W. Peoples appointed Secretary. Before taking his seat, the noble-hearted and beloved old doctor, in a mild but pathetic and eloquent manner, addressed the assembly, clearly explaining to the colored people their fate should they fall into the hands of the Radicals. He told them that he had lived with them and knew them, and that he spoke from experience. Dr. James Kearse, of Barnwell District, was then introduced, who soon made it manifest by his well arranged arguments, that his whole soul was given to the noble cause which he so ably advocated. Next in order came Captain John Davant, so full of enthusiasm and convincing proof in favor of Democracy, that many of the colored people could not refrain from the well-known expression, "Dat's so." The following resolutions were then unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we approve of the nomination of Horatio Seymour and General Francis P. Blair, respectively, for President and Vice-President of the United States of America; that we endorse the sentiments of the Democratic party, and adopt its platform.

Resolved, That in the menacing condition of the government, we pledge our faith and energies to the Democratic party, believing it to be the only true exponent of our constitutional rights and liberties.

Resolved, That we believe the party in power is, with unrelenting hands, tearing down and usurping all the great powers of the government, disregarding its functions of constitutional law, violating all the sacred principles of its dictation, and trampling under foot the last vestige of American liberty.

Resolved, That we unite ourselves to a man, to use every peaceable and honest means in our power to defeat this party (Radical) in the present political contest.

Resolved, That those of our colored friends who conscientiously invite our colored friends to cooperate with us in this struggle for the maintenance of our rights under the constitution, they who join and give us their support, now and hereafter, we promise to use every effort to protect them in their liberty, their lives and their property.

Resolved, That this club be styled the Whippy Swamp Democratic Club.

Resolved, That these proceedings be published in the Charleston Daily News and Mercury.

An election of officers was then held, which resulted as follows: Mr. B. F. Wyman, Chairman; Mr. J. J. Gooding, Secretary, and Dr. M. P. Wood, Treasurer.

Philip Jennings and Jack Ellis (colored Democrats), ascended the stand and gave the freedmen some good advice. Abram Rivers and David Kearse (colored), also spoke, and won the applause of the assembly. The club then adjourned.

EDWIN W. PEEPLES, Secretary pro tem.

Charleston in the Future—The Proposed Park.

To the Editor of the News:

A writer in the Courier of last Saturday speaks of the space situated between Rutledge, Broad and Beaufort streets as a proper place for a Park. I differ from him, and will state my reasons. This lot is too valuable to be thus appropriated, and too small for the purpose. The ground spoken of could be divided into building lots on which our citizens and the wealthy strangers who intend to live amongst us can erect elegant mansions; for the western part of our city has become a fashionable place of residence. The sale of these lots would help the fund of the city, and the buildings on them would add to the beauty and health of the place. The writer in the Courier speaks of the want of breathing space! He cannot be in earnest, and I hope he does it not in jest. Breathing space? Our beloved city is an open field. Fire has swept over and destroyed our sacred temples, our proud mansions and our humble dwellings, and laid them prostrate to the earth. Years have elapsed, and years may pass before they all will be again rebuilt. We want no breathing space. Each spot of ground should be the site of some beautiful home for our exiled brother, our coming friends. In our city limits are and always will be open spaces enough.

Each house has its yard, and almost every one of them its garden, affording space enough for a free and healthy circulation of air. Let our city be built up, we will soon want homes and places of business for the Northern and European population that will crowd our State and city, for the advancement of our commerce and the enjoyment of our climate. "Coming events cast their shadows before." In a few years Charleston will put on her high heel boots and walk up to the Four-mile house. All those farms and marsh lands within the city will be laid out in wide, straight streets, and elegant mansions and large stores will be erected. The poor farmer who has gone to sleep thinking of his basket of onions and potatoes, will wake up to have them filled with gold and silver; his cottage gone, and in its place the noble dwelling of some merchant prince. Place your park beyond your present city limits; where land can be bought cheap. Let it be located on the waters of the Cooper or Ashley Rivers, so that it can be of easy access by land and water, and afford pleasant drives and walks. Thus, when our city becomes densely populated, there will be a place where the people can resort for exercise and amusement, like the parks at the North and in Europe.
